UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

TECHNICAL SERGEANT EMILY R. MILLER

Technical Sergeant Emily R. Miller is currently assigned as the Defense Paralegal at Misawa Air Base, Japan, home of the F-16 "Wild Weasels." Her primary responsibilities include the technical, procedural, and administrative guidance of nonjudicial punishment and adverse actions to clients. Additional responsibilities include providing procedural guidance and assistance to clients undergoing military investigation or clients pending trial by court martial. She also performs defense investigative duties and legal research, and all other required administrative paralegal duties.

Technical Sergeant Miller is originally from Boise, Idaho. She graduated from Northwest Nazarene University in 2014. She entered the Air Force in January 2016 as an Air Traffic Control Apprentice as was assigned to Tyndall AFB, FL. In 2019, she chose to retrain into the Paralegal Career Field and relocated to Shaw Air Force Base upon completion of the Paralegal Apprentice Course. While stationed at Shaw AFB, TSgt Miller worked as a paralegal in adverse actions, military justice, and general law. In 2022, TSgt Miller joined the Defense community.
