Transportation Security Agency (TSA) Airport Passenger Checkpoints – Common Access Card (CAC) Use By Travelers at Airport Check-In

TSA system for verifying CAC holder's bar code information is not working and may prevent air travelers from checking in at airports. Members who plan to travel will need to bring alternative identification with them to the airport, such as an unexpired State Driver's license, State ID, or Passport. Complete list of acceptable identification is listed at: https://www.tsa.gov/travel/security-screening/identification

DoD is aware of members presenting their Common Access Card (CAC) as an acceptable form of Identity at the TSA airport passenger checkpoints. The Defense Manpower Data Center (DMDC) continues to work with TSA and Department of Homeland Security (DHS) officials, and will provide an update to the DoD/uniformed Services DEERS Project Offices of TSA's efforts at airport passenger checkpoints.

Additional information regarding airport passenger checkpoint access, visit TSA web site at: https://www.tsa.gov/real-id for Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs).
